

PRINTERS STIRRED TO DEFEND G. P. O.

Typographical Union Members Want All Work Done in Big Shop.

Let the United States Government should revert back to the old system of having its printing done by contract, Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, is conducting an active campaign in an effort to keep the bulk of the public printing at the Government Printing Office. Attractive pamphlets showing a comparison of cost of public printing and work executed at private establishments and containing extracts from Congressional debates on the question, are now being distributed among members of Congress and other public officials.

Suggestions that the printing for the 1910 census be let by contract to private concerns and also that other work now done at the Government Printing Office be put on the contract basis have particularly stirred the members of the Typographical Union.

Million a Year Saved. Pointing out that the Government has saved, in comparison with contract prices, at least $1,000,000 a year since it commenced to do its own printing in 1881, the pamphlet states:

"The Government now owns the largest, best-equipped, and one of the best managed printing offices in the world, in which the public printing is executed in a most satisfactory manner, as cheaply as reasonable wages to employees will permit, and with a promptness, accuracy, and excellence never attained under any other system."

Old System's Vices. "A return to the three-discredited contract system, which, in the language of Representative Gurley of Ohio, author of the bill establishing the Government office, 'has brought more contempt and disgrace upon our Government than have come from any single cause which can be mentioned, and kept the Congress of the United States floundering in the mire of printing rascality' for more than forty years, would no doubt mean a return to the extravagance, fraud, and inferior work of former days."

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR W. T. CRUMP

Funeral services for William T. Crump, who nursed President Garfield when he was mortally wounded by an assassin's bullet, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence, 35 Westminister street northwest. Mr. Crump was born in England, and came to this country when eleven years old. He served with the Ohio volunteers in the civil war, becoming the aid of General, later President Hayes. He was one of the guards that escorted Mr. Hayes to Washington during the troublous period that preceded his inauguration. When Mr. Hayes became President he appointed Mr. Crump steward. It was while serving in this capacity that he was called in to attend President Garfield four years later. Mr. Crump was with the wounded President constantly until he was removed from Washington.

HARD PUNISHMENT FOR UNTIDY PRIVATE

The War Department has received a report that Private Peter McLoskey has been found guilty by court-martial of conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline, sentenced to four months' confinement at hard labor and forfeiture of $10 a month of his pay for the same period.

It was alleged against McLoskey that while at Niagara Falls he was untidy in his uniform.

LANGHORNE BEAUTY TO WED PAUL PHIPPS

MISS NORA LANGHORNE.

RICHMOND, Va., March 28.—The fifth and last of the world-famed Langhorne beauties is to marry Paul Phipps of England. Chiswell Danby Langhorne, their father, has announced the engagement of his youngest daughter, Nora, to the Englishman, who is well known in Virginia, where he has frequently taken part in the hunts. Mr. Phipps is an architect, and a grandson of William Butler Duncan, of New York.

The young couple at present are the guests of Mrs. William Waldorf Astor, Miss Langhorne's sister, at Cliveden. Mr. Langhorne has given no intimation of the time of the wedding, but that announcement will be made soon.

Miss Nora Langhorne has the same beauty which brought international tribute to all her sisters. She was a debutante last year, and since coming out had spent most of her time in New York. Her sisters are Mrs. T. Moncure Perkins, of Richmond; Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Mrs. Reginald Brooks, of Long Island, and Mrs. Astor.

COLONEL HARRISON BURIED WITH HONORS

With the military honors due to his rank, final services over the body of Col. George F. E. Harrison were held this morning.

The body arrived early today on the Norfolk boat from Fort Monroe, where the principal funeral services were held yesterday afternoon. On the boat were many officers from the fort and other posts, and at the wharf they were met by other officers who were to form with them the colonel's escort to the grave.

Shortly before 10 o'clock the funeral procession started for Arlington. The burial rites were brief, the regular military service being used.

PARALYSIS IS FATAL TO WILLIAM EINBECK

William Einbeck, one of the scientists whose original work is already giving the Carnegie Institute such distinction, died at his home, 175 T street northwest, last evening. A month ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, and a recurrence yesterday resulted in his death.

In the Carnegie Institute he had been engaged in study of the tides for the past two years. Before that time he had spent thirty-six years in the Coast and Geodetic Survey. He was a native of Germany, a graduate and a professor in the Missouri State University, and was sixty-eight years old. He was a member of the Cosmos Club and many scientific societies. He leaves a brother, Dr. August Einbeck, of New Haven, Mo. Funeral services will be held Tuesday at the residence.

The Maximum of Automobile Efficiency Has Been Reached in The

InterState

35 Horse Power—Price $1750

The price alone isn't its attractive feature—it's the value behind the price. Here's a great, big, strong, "racey-looking" car—a car that will stand up through every test—a car that has power enough and speed enough for anyone—at $1750.

THE INTER-STATE is a coast to coast sensation. A car that will do big things—do them regularly and consistently. The man who investigates is the man who will buy the Inter-State, and the more detailed the investigation—the more certain the sale.

CHARITY RECEIPTS SHOW DECREASE

Citizens' Relief Association Renews Its Appeal for Funds.

While in one day the Commissioners of the District forwarded their check for $800, Senator Root sent along a similar slip of paper calling for $50, and A. Lisner obtained six members for the Five Dollar Club, the authorities of the Associated Charities know today that the receipts of the organization for so much of 1909 as has passed are nearly $4,000 less than receipts for the similar period in 1908. The Citizens' Relief Association, it is stated, is able to show a state corresponding to the one it had one year ago. The Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis is slightly behind the receipts record of last year. The $800 check from the Commissioners which brought gladness to the eyes of the association authorities represents the interest derived from the investment of the Centennial Inaugural Relief Fund. It was turned over to the Citizens' Relief Association for the purchase of clothing for the poor of the District.

Of the six memberships in the Five Dollar Club, Mr. Lisner himself took four. It is hoped that every new member of the club will persuade friends to join.

The following acknowledgements are made by the respective treasurers:

For the joint finance committee, Howard S. Reside, treasurer: $50.00

For the Associated Charities, John Joy Eason, treasurer: $5.00

Dr. Ada R. Thomas: $5.00

M. E. S.: 1.00

Dr. Thomas A. Whittington: 2.00

Dr. and Mrs. George S. Duncan: 5.00

Mrs. Alexander R. Shepherd: 50.00

To the Citizens' Relief Association, Milton E. Allen, treasurer: $300.00

Centennial Inaugural relief fund, through the Commissioners of the District of Columbia: $900.00

Mrs. C. C. Black: 5.00

Miss Louisa F. Symonds: 3.00

To the Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, William H. Forwood, treasurer: $5.00

Dr. Ada R. Thomas: $5.00

The following members have been added to the "Five Dollar Club":

A. Lisner (four memberships): $20.00

William Corcoran Eustis: 5.00

The following outline of the purposes of the organization is given out today:

BANQUET TENDERED THOMAS C. TRESCOT

By Associates in Nitrogen Laboratory in the Bureau of Chemistry.

Forty men who know more about what is in ordinary food than any other forty men in the United States, dined together last evening, and dined as jovially and as heartily as any other forty men could. Most of them were the Government's food analysts of the nitrogen laboratory, Bureau of Chemistry, gathered at the Hotel Normandie in honor of the twenty-five years of service just completed by their chief, Thomas C. Trescot.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley was toastmaster, and the only man present not a chemist was Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the Bureau of Entomology, who is the authority on bugs, and knows about some things that are in some kinds of food.

Analyses of Dr. Trescot were given by Dr. Wiley, W. W. Skinner, Dr. Howard, P. P. Veitch, F. C. Cook, A. H. Bryan, D. A. Patrick and W. D. Bigelow in the speaking after the dinner.
